

Communication Akoun & Scholten – Language Center in Duisburg, Germany

Our company, based in Duisburg, Germany, was founded in 2000 and is a language school, licensed test centre and training company specialising in language teaching and the development of skills in the field of interpersonal communication and its many facets.

Our core offer includes language courses in German as a foreign language for international students, scholarship holders and project participants:

- Intensive German as a foreign language courses for all levels A1-C1 (preparation for university entrance language exams telc C1

Hochschule / TestDaF / DSH)

- BAMF courses: Integration courses A1-B1, vocational DeuFöV courses B2-C1

We offer preparatory German courses for foreign students. In addition, we offer special preparatory German courses with extensive support packages (organisation and support of the registration at the foreigners' registration office, pick up at the airport, accommodation, health insurance registration, advice and support during the application for studies at universities in Germany, etc.) within the framework of cooperation projects with various universities in China and India and the University of Duisburg-Essen, the University of Applied Sciences Hamm-Lippstadt, the Diploma University (FH Nordhessen) and the University of the Sparkassen-Finanzgruppe. We are cooperation language course provider of the Folkwang University of the Arts (Essen).

In total, we supervise about 1,000 language course participants per year. The two managing directors and a total of three project managers take care of the organisation of the various language course projects. We work with a qualified, experienced team of currently 22 teachers who base their teaching on modern German as a foreign language methods. The basis of the language teaching is formed by relevant DaF textbooks tailored to the respective course. An independently developed blended learning platform (Moodle), which is constantly being expanded, offers general exercises to supplement the classroom teaching, in order to consolidate the skills in the subskills (speaking, writing, reading and listening). In cooperation with the various clients, it is also suitable for the closer interweaving of technical and language learning content. Since March 2020, all language teaching offers are also available online via the company's own ZOOM channels.

As a licensed test centre, we offer the following language tests at our premises:

- standardised language tests (A1-C1): telc A1-B2 & telc C1 University (recognized as a university entrance language examination throughout Germany – necessary level: passed (both examination parts – written and oral))
- standardised language test (B2/C1): TestDaF (recognized as a university entrance language examination throughout Germany – necessary level: TDN 4 x 4 or better)
- standardised placement tests DaF: onSet
- standardised study aptitude test: TestAS
- standardised English language tests: TOEFL®

In addition to language courses and exams, intercultural training (German-Chinese, German-Indian, German-French), workshops and seminars on writing are as much a part of the services offered by Kommunikation Akoun & Scholten as consulting, coaching and supervision (for personal and professional changes and crises, further development, reorientation based on Gestalt therapy principles).
